Nambiti Hills Photography Weekend with Matthew Willman
24 September – 26 September

with Matthew Willman

BRING YOUR CAMERA

IT DOESN'T MATTER IF IT'S A SIMPLE POINT & SHOOT, A PROSUMER CAMERA OR AN SLR. WHATEVER IT IS, YOU'LL BE ABLE TO GET MUCH MORE OUT OF IT BY THE END OF THIS WORKSHOP!

The beauty of photographs is that they capture elements of life that confirm in years to come where we have been and what we and our friends looked like. They are memory catchers. They can also be works of art that uniquely capture what is in front of the camera lens. They can inspire, show new perspectives, and bring endless pleasure.

Nambiti Hills and the wilderness all around it provide perfect photographic subject matter every day. From the exquisite flora and fauna to be found all around, to the colorful and fascinating birds that regard the area as their home. To capture images either digitally or on film takes both patience and skill. To help you with both, we've invited top South African photographer, Matthew Willman, to run a weekend workshop. The workshop is for anyone seeking true inspiration.

Matthew Willman has emerged as one of Southern Africa's foremost photographers in his chosen field. Not only has he fulfilled a niche market for himself in the Advertising Industry but has also pioneered in the field of Documentary photo & film for respected clients as well.

The price will be R2999 per person per night sharing and will include all meals, drinks (excluding premium and estate wines, champagnes and spirits), snacks, accommodation as well as tutoring and talks with Matthew Willman.
